The screenshot shows a Windows 95 desktop with a single application window titled "EAST - [default.wsp:1]". The window has a menu bar (File, View, Edit, Tools, Window, Help) and a toolbar. The main area is divided into two panes. The left pane displays a tree view of document categories: Drafts, Pending, Active, Failed, Saved, Favorites, Tagged (0), UDC, and Queue. Under the "Active" category, a list of documents is shown, each with a magnifying glass icon, a label (L1 through L15), a count in parentheses, and a document number in quotes. L15, "6256670", is selected and highlighted. The right pane shows a details view for the selected document. It includes buttons for "View", "Print", "Browse", "Queue", and "Get". Below these are fields for "File" (USPAT), "Default operator" (ON), and checkboxes for "Print" and "Highlight all terms in body". A large text area contains the document number "6256670". At the bottom of the window is a status bar with icons for "All links", "All links", "Page", "Text", and "HTML".
